Dear Dr. Nicolle:

I have been most interested to read the papers that have been published during the past two or three years in the Ann. Inst. Pasteur by you and your colleagues at the Institut Pasteur. We have ourselves been working in somewhat different aspects of lysogenicity in Salmonella.

If you could do me the favor of supplying reprints of these papers, if they are available, it would be a great convenience for which I would be grateful. Reciprocally, I have placed your name on my own mailing list.

Yours sincerely,

Joshua Lederberg
